New Directions

ASSESSMENT AND PREPARATION OF HISPANIC COLLEGE STUDENTS

“With the future of our nation’s economy depending on knowledge-based innovation and our fastest-growing populations being underrepresented, bridging the achievement gap—which should really be called an opportunity gap—has never been more critical. The responsibility to do so lands not with the ‘new majority,’ but rather the educational institutions placed in and around their communities to serve them. New Directions is an excellent resource for all educators aspiring to achieve this goal.”

MILDRED GARCÍA

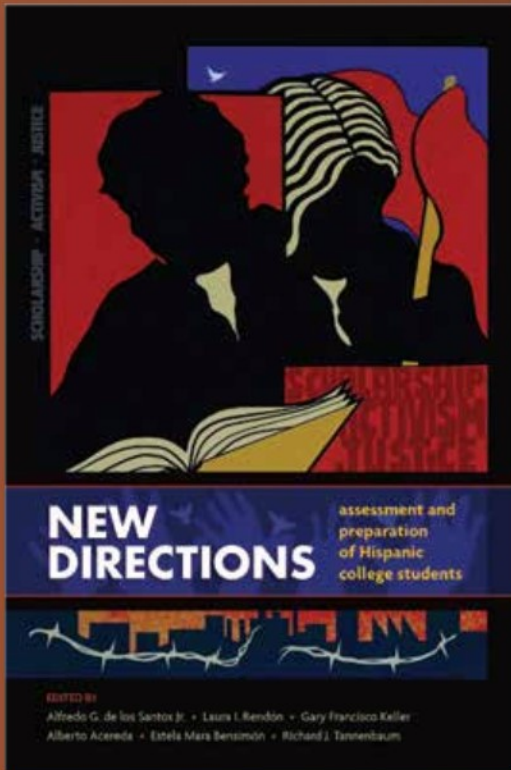

PRESIDENT, CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, FULLERTON

“The data, perspectives, and recommendations presented in New Directions make the volume a must read for educational practitioners, advocates, and policymakers.”

JOSÉ LUIS CRUZ

PRESIDENT, LEHMAN COLLEGE, CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK
